Chicks Hockey Ready To Start Another Exciting Season Chapleau Girls Hockey Association Is Accepting Registration

Yes summer is coming to an end, school will be starting and it's hockey season just around the corner. Chick's hockey will be starting in early September and it is time to register for the 2013/14 season.

CGHA is a partner of the Ontario Women's Hockey

Association (OWHA) which governs female hockey in Ontario.

CGHA promotes and provides opportunities for girls to play female hockey in Chapleau and are looking for girls to come and register and play this exciting game. Currently we are looking to ice three teams this year

Peewee, Bantam and Midget. The executive is always looking for new players and would like to invite any girl who is interested in playing. If numbers are high enough at other ages (Atom level) we would love to add an additional team to our organization.

The executive is considering moving some if not all teams to the rep division which will allow teams a chance to play at the provincial championships in April 2014.

The deadline to register is August 27th to ensure all the registration paperwork is sent to the OWHA to register our teams. So please come out and register your child.

The girls will be participating in fundraising events, weekly practices, tournaments and have exhibition games against other community teams.

If you are interested in volunteering with any of the teams please contact the executive members listed below.

If you require support please contact Manitoulin-Sudbury District Services Board who offers recreation bursaries for low income families. For further information, please contact Tara O'Hearn-St.Amand at 705-864-0430 ext 1."

MPAC makes presentation on assessment procedures

By Mario G. Lafreniere

On Monday, August 12th, members from the Municipal Property Assessment Corporation were in Chapleau to make a presentation on the procedures and methods employed by MPAC to assess municipal properties.

A surprisingly small crowd of approximately 30 people showed up.

Although most of the information given during the evening is available online some questions on specific issues were answered while some of the attendees left with a perplexed look on their faces.

Some felt that the models used for assessments throughout Ontario, specifically on market values, shouldn't be used in smaller Northern Ontario communities.

The four year cycle and phase in program seems to create confusion for the taxpayers.

In the eyes of the taxpayer, the bottom line is that the mil rate imposed by the municipality in conjunction with questionable assessment methods is the cause for the high taxes.

Future articles will try to make light of both taxes and assessment methods.

EDITOR'S POINT OF VIEW

Mario G. Lafrenière

Now is a good time to abolish the Senate

If you think that the Senate is a democratic institution, think again. The Senate doesn't need to be reformed, it needs to be abolished along with all pensions and severances attached to it with no exceptions. Stephen

Harper, as an opposition leader, was relentless in bombarding the government with accusations of pork-barreling and appointing friends and insiders to the Senate. Stephen Harper told Jean Chrétien that the Senate was the "dumping ground for the favoured cronies of the prime minister" and said "Canadians ... are ashamed that the prime minister continues the disgraceful, undemocratic appointment of undemocratic Liberals to the undemocratic Senate to pass all-too-often undemocratic legislation." On September 7, 2012 Harper appointed five new Senators bringing the Conservative presence in the Senate to 62 seats of 105. Harper has appointed 59 Senators since taking power. Although the Senate rarely rejects bills, they have the power to do so, and this from an unelected entity.

The latest fraudulent actions by Duffy, Wallin, Harb and Brazeau should theoretically put a nail in the Senate's coffin, but it won't. These individuals should be tried and imprisoned as soon as legally possible because we can assume that illegal acts were committed. It is alleged that Wallin may have tried to alter her claims after the fact. What do you call that? Some people have been jailed for lesser charges. The latest Senatorial fiasco will not affect us as a society, we will continue to ramble thru life as if nothing was wrong. This is where the real problem lies. We, as a society, need to be pro-active in the way our country is governed. Canadians should sue all of the accused for the costs of the investigation or maybe garnishee the remainder Senators' wages or pensions to account for all of the costs associated with the scandal. It is probably also fair to assume that this is but the tip of the iceberg.

A smokescreen bill to reform the Senate was introduced by the Tories in 2011, but has languished in the House of Commons ever since.

It was estimated that abolishing the Senate could cost $10 to $30 million in severances and pensions. It shouldn't. What happens to employees when a major layoff occurs? They're sent home and sometimes fortunate to get a year's worth of unemployment. Why should we honor pensions and severance payments for fictional positions in a fictional institution. The only real events in this scenario is fraudulence and dishonesty. All this at the expense of hard working Canadian tax payers. The estimated cost to run the Senate this year: $92,500,000.00, Senators work, on average, three months a

OBITUARY

Thomas 'Tommy' DONIVAN

Passed away peacefully at his cottage on Saturday August 10, 2013 at the age of 72 years. Beloved husband of Linda (nee Houle) for 45 years. Loving father of Alison Swigger (Rick), Jeffrey (Sherry) and Marissa. Proud grandfather of Hayley, Baden, Tristan and Sienna. Dear son of Patricia Donovan (late Wilfred). Dear brother of Alice Doyle (Ritchie), Betty Ann Turcotte (late Harvey), Jean Curtis (late Mike), Beverley Richard (late Ron), Fred Donovan (Gail), Burt Donovan (Louise) and Patty Smith (Jim). He will be lovingly remembered by many nieces and nephews. A Memorial Mass will be held at Sacred Heart Church on Friday August 16, 2013 at 11:00 a.m. with Reverend Sebastien Groleau officiating. Memorial donations made to the Ontario Heart & Stroke Foundation would be appreciated. (Funeral arrangements entrusted to the P.M. Gilmartin Funeral Home, Wawa, 1-800-439-4937)

THANK YOU

The family of the late Richard Fitzgerald would like to take the time to express our sincere and heartfelt thanks to family and friends for the outpouring of support and sympathy, at this very difficult time. We also send our gratitude and appreciation to Doctor Steven Saari and the medical staff at C.H.S for their dedication and care, The Chapleau Royal Canadian Legion branch 5 and Mr. and Mrs. Scott for their assistance in the luncheon preparation, Valerie and the staff from the Gilmartin Funeral home for their guidance and Reverend Sébastien Groleau for his touching ceremony. Everyone's kindness and comforting words has helped ease the sorrow we've all felt with our loss.

All our gratitude, the Martineau family.

year and in 2012, thirty-one Senators missed 1/4 of their work days.

Set a date, hand out pink slips and let's be done with the Red Faced Chamber. It's bad enough that we have to put up with silliness from some elected officials, but having to put up with this most repugnant behavior from well-paid un-elected officials is unacceptable.

Taking better care of our veterans especially the homeless might be a more honorable gesture to accomplish with our valuable tax dollars!

This is hard to swallow when most of us are struggling to make ends meet in order to pay OUR municipal, provincial and federal taxes but we continue to see this pattern in these same municipal, provincial and federal governments. These invertebrates don't have the moxie to resign from an appointed unmerited position when caught cheating. How much more of this can taxpayers endure.

According to Webster a government in which the supreme power is vested in the people and exercised by them directly or indirectly through a system of representation usually involving periodically held free elections is still the definition of democracy.

CHAPLEAU

I would like at this time to thank all of my family and friends in Chapleau for what they did for me on my 90th birthday. The nice cards and visits. My daughter Dianne and the Mayor of Chapleau went out of their way to give me a very nice party and visits.

J'ai fait une belle visite pour la fête de Louis Hémon aussi.

I love you all

Arthur Grout of Smith and Chapple made difference in Chapleau life during community's boom years

Chapleau Moments

by Michael J. Morris

There I was, sitting in the Starbucks of the new Target store in Cranbrook, chuckling to myself and thinking about Arthur Grout, of Chapleau.

Mr. Grout, one of Chapleau's best known citizens, and as Dr. Bill Pellow, writing in Chapleau Trails noted, he had "his fingers in the pie, many pies and sometimes both feet in every aspect of Chapleau's existence" at one time.

But, it was one of the Target managers, they call them "team leaders" that had captured my attention with his clipboard. In fact, it seems like all the team leaders scurry around the store with their clipboards.

Out of the mothballs of memory,

I saw Mr. Grout, president of Smith and Chapple Ltd., never without a clutch of papers or a clipboard as he seemed to be always in a hurry, going somewhere, but never failed to stop to talk with a customer.

When I got home I went to Bill's piece about Mr. Grout, and he too, had taken note of the clipboard. "Remember him racing around from one department to another with his clipboard, jotting down memos to refresh his memory and putting order into a very busy day..."

In fact, when I was going to high school and university, and working part-time at Smith and Chapple, Mr. Grout once confided in me that if I wanted to be successful in business, always carry a bunch of papers -- looked impressive to people.

No way that all these years later, Target would have received advice to include in its team leader training program, that all carry clipboards, but there you have it, in more ways than one, A.J. "Art" Grout was ahead of the curve.

As a Smith and Chapple alumnus, I worked in the men's wear, furniture, grocery and garage, as well as at Mid North News and CHAPT V in the late 1950s and early 1960s.

Mr. Grout started as a messenger boy at the store, and in 1930 with his business partner D.O. Payette, took it over with Mr. Payette as president.

When the end of an era came for Smith and Chapple Ltd. on April 30, 1987, although Mr. Grout had retired in 1962, Bill Payette, commented in an article, "My father was a great businessman and he and Art got along very well." Bill had joined the store in 1941.

In the 1930s in the midst of the Great Depression, the Chapleau Winter Carnival was founded with Mr. Payette, the catalyst with meetings in his office, but Mr. Grout was more the public face as carnival chairman.

Also, in 1939, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth were visiting Canada and the Royal Train would be passing through Chapleau. Mr. Grout and Earle Sootheran, manager of the jewelry department chartered a plane for a fishing excursion to the Goose River. The plan was to catch some speckled trout to present to their majesties.

It worked. The fish were accepted and Mr. Grout received a letter of appreciation from the Royal couple.

Mr. Grout took over the business in 1949 when Mr. Payette retired, and during the 1950s the physical face of Chapleau changed. Mr. Grout expanded the store to "the other side of Main Street" where CPR houses had been, and is now Collins Home Hardware. He established a real estate business and built houses at the end of Monk Street as well as several on King Street primarily to house CPR employees as the diesel shop was established.

timers, like me now, talk about major activities we remember from Chapleau, two are always recalled -- the draws at Christmas held at Smith and Chapple and Dr. G.E. Young's Christmas display.

After Mr. Grout established Mid North News and CHAP TV, I got my start in journalism writing a Chapleau High School column with Joy (Evans) Heft and hosting a television program with Phyllis Chrusoskie.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Impatience with those who don't keep up with you can cause resistance, which, in turn, can lead to more delays. Best to be helpful and supportive if you want results.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) A surprise announcement from a colleague could put you on the defensive. Gather your facts and respond. You'll soon find the situation shifting in your favor.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Time spent away from a project pays off with a new awareness of options you hadn't considered before. Weigh them carefully before deciding which to choose.
CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Consider confronting that personal conflict while there's still time to work things out. A delay can cause more problems. A longtime colleague might offer to mediate.
LEO (July 23 to August 22) Some emerging matters could impede the Lion's progress in completing an important project. Best advice: Deal with them now, before they can create costly delays.
VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Your aspect continues to favor an expanding vista. This could be a good time to make a career move, and taking an out-of-town job could be a good way to do it.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Disruptive family disputes need to be settled so that everyone can move on. Avoid assuming this burden alone, though. Ask for -- no, demand -- help with this problem.
SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Patience is called for as you await word on an important workplace situation. A personal circumstance, however, could benefit by your taking immediate action.
SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21). Don't lose confidence in yourself. Those doubters are likely to back off if you demand they show solid proof why they think your ideas won't work.
CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A temporary setback might cause the usually sure-footed Goat some unsettling moments. But keep going. The path ahead gets easier as you move forward.
AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) There's welcome news from the workplace. There also could be good news involving a relationship that has long held a special meaning for you.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You might still need to cut some lingering ties to a situation that no longer has the appeal it once held. In the meantime, you can start to explore other opportunities.
BORN THIS WEEK: Your sense of what's right can inspire others if you remember not to push too hard to make your case. Moderation works best for you.

Probe Mine high grade gold results brightens Chapleau's future

Although Chapleau has always been mainly associated with the railway and lumber mills, it seem like mining will eventually be part of its makeup.

"Over the last six months this has turned into a project that we hadn't envisioned," Probe's CEO David Palmer said in an interview with Northern Miner.

New results from the drilling identifies continuing high-grade gold deposits.

"We already had a solid deposit on our hands. We thought it was a large lower grade deposit with higher grades than Osisko Mining's Canadian Malartic but then we hit this high grade zone in the middle of it," Palmer says. "So now we think maybe it is more like a Hemlo than an Osisko."

Agnico investing in Probe mines and the lower cost of drilling are all positive aspects that will help the mine succeed in the future.

The possibility of hurdles down the road still exist. Land deals with forestry companies and approximately 10 existing cottages on the south side of Borden Lake.

Probe Mines may deal with the situation as Osisko did in Malartic, Québec.

All in all it's good news for the Chapleau area.

Ontario Weather Review: July 2013

The Ontario Weather Review for the month of July is all wet. New all time monthly precipitation records were set this month in Windsor and Toronto. The precipitation totals received in July were greater than any monthly precipitation amount received at those locations. For July alone, Windsor received 3.2 times the normal value and Toronto Pearson, received 3 times the normal value. For the observation site right in the City of Toronto, it was the highest precipitation amount since 1841!

Locations all over the province received greater than normal amounts of rainfall. However, as most of those high precipitation amounts resulted from localized heavy showers and thunderstorms, it is possible that other locations, not mentioned in this review, received amounts within the normal to below normal range. As an example, Earlton had its driest July since

In contrast, temperatures were generally within normal values across the province with the heat wave experienced around mid-month in Southern Ontario being balanced by the cooler temperatures which dominated towards the end of the month. That being said, Petawawa did manage to finish the month somewhat warmer than normal with an average temperature 2.1 degrees Celcius higher than the long-term average.

Severe Weather

Ontario received a generous amount of severe weather during the month of July. There was one confirmed and one possible (still unconfirmed) tornado, numerous reports of funnel clouds, several cases of local flooding and a myriad of damage reports across the province. Mid-month, a heat wave spread across southern Ontario, and at the end of the month, below-seasonal temperatures blanketed the province. However, the month will likely be most remembered for the July 8 Toronto flood and the severe-weather outbreak on July 19.

On July 8, a weak low-pressure system combined with a warm and humid air mass to generate several areas of slow-moving thunderstorms across much of southern Ontario. As a result, the Greater Toronto Area (GTA) reported major flooding, after storms produced upwards of 100 mm of rain in just a few hours. The hardest-hit areas were in a zone extending from southern Georgian Bay southward through the GTA. In one day, Pearson International Airport, Mississauga Works Yard, Toronto City, Billy Bishop Toronto City Airport and G. Ross Lord Dam in northern Toronto recorded 126.0 mm, 110 mm, 97 mm, 85 mm, and 68 mm, respectively. The 126.0 mm recorded at Pearson airport was a new daily rainfall record at that location, beating the previous daily rainfall record of 121.4 mm set back in October 1954, when Hurricane Hazel hit. The cost of the flood in Toronto is likely to exceed $600 million.

On July 10, thunderstorms produced tennis ball-sized hail in Zurich (15 km northeast of Grand Bend) and large hail in Stratford. Trees were downed in London, one of which fell on a house. In Marden, north of Guelph, numerous hydro poles were toppled due to powerful wind gusts.

Humidex advisories and heat alerts were in effect for much of southern Ontario from July 14-19. For this six-day stretch, most cities recorded temperatures consistently higher than 30oC – and, with the humidex, it felt closer to the mid-40s. Borden, Brockville, Peterborough and Toronto endured five consecutive days above 32oC. Many other locations experienced three or four consecutive days above 32oC.

From the evening of July 18 to the early morning hours of July 19, several lines of severe thunderstorms ahead of, and along, a cold front crossed northern and southern Ontario. At 10 p.m., winds caused a seven-km swath of damage through the bush just north of Massey. It is still uncertain whether this damage may have been tornadic. Around midnight, a storm caused some damage in Dryden. Later, between noon and mid-evening on July 19, a myriad of reports of downed branches, snapped trees, structural damage, power outages and significant hail were received from North Bay to Cornwall to Windsor – and everywhere in between. Storm damage teams investigated several hard-hit areas such as Barrie, Callander, Gravenhurst, Hamilton and Petawawa and found the cause of damage to be due to straight-line winds. The municipality of Callander declared a state of emergency as a result.

Multiple flooding events have cost tourism and golf courses significant business in Windsor-Essex due to the number of heavy rainfall events this summer. In July alone, Windsor received a total of 256.6 mm of rain. On July 1, 8, 9, 15 and 19, respectively, 24 mm, 47 mm, 31 mm, 57 mm and 33 mm fell.

A very slow-moving, low-pressure system gave portions of northern and northeastern Ontario significant amounts of rain and thunderstorms over the weekend of July 26-28. On July 26, thunderstorms dropped 54.3 mm of rain in Sault Ste. Marie, causing significant flooding to the roadways. Rainfall amounts from the three-day period totalled 92 mm in Nagagami, 64 mm in Armstrong, 62 mm in Sault Ste. Marie, 61 mm in both Geraldton and Kapuskasing, 51 mm in Chapleau, 49 mm in Timmins, 46 mm in Pukaskwa and 36 mm in Wawa. Some locations in Northwestern Ontario also set new single day records for the coldest daytime high temperature. For example, Thunder Bay only struggled to a high of 13.8 oC on July 26 breaking the previous record cold high of 17.2 oC set back on that day in history in 1945 and 1966. Thunder Bay would again set coldest daytime high records on July 27 and 28.

A brief and powerful thunderstorm triggered by a cold front crossed Kitchener late on July 27, downing trees and flooding some streets with debris. The damage was caused by straight-line winds and it is estimated that the winds gusted to nearly 100 km/h at the height of the storm.

On July 28-29, an upper-level disturbance over the relatively warm waters of the Great Lakes created conditions that were favourable for the development of waterspouts. On those two days, at least 12 funnel clouds and seven waterspout sightings occurred over the Great Lakes and Lake Nipissing. While waterspouts look like tornadoes, they are usually less destructive and have a shorter lifespan than land-based twisters. No damage or injuries were reported.

Finally, on July 29, a number of thunderstorms affected eastern Ontario. Residents of east Ottawa watched as a funnel cloud crossed the area, which briefly became a tornado at about 5:30 p.m. as it contacted the surface and caused some tree damage at a golf course on Blair Road. It was classified as an Enhanced Fujita Scale Zero (EF-0) tornado, the weakest on the EF scale that goes from 0 to 5. It was Ontario's 10th tornado of the 2013 season.

114 mm of rain fell on Chapleau. The normal precipitation for July is 86.7. This was the wettest since 2009.

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

- On Aug. 30, 30 B.C., Cleopatra, queen of Egypt and lover of Julius Caesar and Mark Antony, takes her life following the defeat of her forces against Octavian, the future first emperor of Rome. She committed suicide possibly by means of an asp, a poisonous Egyptian serpent and symbol of divine royalty.
- On Aug. 29, 1876, Charles F. Kettering, inventor of the electric self-starter, is born in Loudonville, Ohio. Kettering's inventions spread far beyond the automotive industry: He helped develop the refrigerant Freon, and took an active role in the medical industry, inventing a treatment for venereal disease, an incubator for premature infants and artificial fever therapy.

- On Aug. 27, 1908, future president Lyndon Baines Johnson is born on a farm near Stonewall, Texas. As president, Johnson pushed through the creation of Medicare/Medicaid, Head Start, the Voting Rights Act, the Civil Rights Act and the Department of Housing and Urban Development.
- On Aug. 26, 1959, the British Motor Corporation launches its newest car, the small, affordable Mark I Mini. The Mini went on to become one of the best-selling British cars in history. At only 10 feet long, the $800 Mini could sit four adults and had a trunk big enough for a reasonable amount of luggage.

- On Sept. 1, 1964, pitcher Masanori Murakami becomes the first Japanese man to play in U.S. baseball's major leagues. Murakami was a teenage baseball prodigy in Japan, and his left-handed sidearm delivery proved an asset in the United States.

- On Aug. 28, 1972, the U.S. Air Force gets its first ace designation since the Korean War when Captain Richard S. Ritchie and his "backseater" (radar intercept officer), Captain Charles B. DeBellevue, shoot down his fifth MiG near Hanoi.

- On Aug. 31, 1985, Richard Ramirez, the notorious "Night Stalker," is captured and nearly killed by a mob in East Los Angeles, Calif., after being recognized from a photograph shown on television and in newspapers. Ramirez was pulled from the enraged mob by police officers.

Imagine, a small place like Chapleau, had a television station in the 1950s. In fact it had two competing cable television companies after Dr. Young established one too.

In a 1958 store advertisement in Mid North News, I counted over 120 employees of the company, making it a very large employer in Chapleau.

Although business was always on his mind, Mr. Grout was also very much involved in the community and the province. In Chapleau, he was active in St. John's Anglican Church, the chamber of commerce, the hospital board, and served as a township councillor as well as reeve for short time -- and that is likely only a partial list. He was also on the committee that built the Chapleau Memorial Arena on Lorne Street.

He was also a member of the boards of the Northern Ontario Development Corporation, Northeastern Associated Chambers of Commerce and the Northern Tourist Outfitters Association.

Also active in the Chapleau Rotary Club, he commissioned Frank Barberio to build the Rotary Table depicting wood from every country in the world that has Rotary. It is now located in the civic centre.

A major part of Mr. Grout's legacy to Chapleau occurred in 1964 when he arranged to purchase CPR Engine 5433, and bring it to Chapleau to be placed in the park by the station. The engine was moved to its present location by laying a special track from the shops to the park with J.M 'Bud' Park as the engineer of 5433, and Earle Freeborn on the engine pushing it to its new home.

Mr. Grout also headed the Chapleau Centennial Committee which built the centennial museum, now called the heritage museum which I understand has now been closed for more than a year.

After he retired from Smith and Chapple in 1965, when Gene Bernier and Robert Warren took it over, he continued to promote Chapleau. In 1978 at the official openings of the Chapleau Civic Centre, Chapleau Recreation Centre and Cedar Grove Lodge in June, he seemed to be everywhere and made a donation of paintings to Cedar Grove. He also loaned his Cadillac to transport dignitaries.

For many years, Mr. Grout's first wife Nettie worked with him at the store. After she died, he married Grace Hartman who had been a councillor and mayor of Sudbury.

For sure, Mr. Grout could be controversial, and not always appreciated. It goes with the territory when you are as active as he was in the life and times of Chapleau, but he made a difference that improved the quality of life for us in the community's boom years. Mr. Grout died in 1980. My email is mj.morris@live.ca
