Chapleau 1970: A compilation of facts as seen by Wilf Simpson

The following was prepared by Wilf Simpson, the Deputy Clerk of the Township of Chapleau in 1970 for the Chapleau Chamber of Commerce and submitted by Mrs. Claire Charron.

This is a 42 year old historical snapshot of our community. How would one summarize the following 42 years?

Chapleau a thriving, community of some 4000 population is situated some 300 miles from Sault Ste. Marie on the edge of the Chapleau Game Preserve, the largest game sanctuary in the Western Hemisphere.

Primarily, Chapleau was a railway town, the Canadian Pacific Railway having pushed through in 1885. One of the first uses of the Railway was in the movement of troops from the east to quell the Riel Rebellion in the west. At this time the steel had not been laid past Missanabie and it was necessary for the troops to detrain at Missanabie and move the guns and equipment across the ice on Dog Lake and entrain on another train near Lochalsh to continue their journey west. Some of the equipment went through the ice and it is believed that there are still relics to be found on the bottom of the lake.

Chapleau was a robust community before the gold rush that brought Timmins and the Porcupine area into prominence. In those days, according to the late Anglican Bishop of Moosonee, R.J. Renison, Chapleau was the only "window" of the north and it was necessary for the miners and trappers to trek to Chapleau to receive or mail letters or send telegrams.

Many of our Indian residents are descendants of those who brought their families on the arduous canoe trip from James Bay via the Albany Waterway. The late Sam Chappise told stories of this trip, when as a young boy he made the journey with his parents. It was most unfortunate that Sam passed on before this wealth of information could be chronicled. Sam did tell me that after making the trip the family settled in Nicholson and every time a train whistled Sam would race to the shelter of the bush, peer through the underbrush as the iron monster steamed by.

Needless to say Sam had never heard of, let alone seen a railway engine, for the Ontario Northland, now serving Moosonee, was not even a dream in those far off days.

Chapleau also had a hand in the construction of the Canadian National Railway then the C.N. right-of way was being cleared and roadbed made ready, food and materials were shipped to Chapleau, for the C.P.R. was in full operation at this time. The food and materials were shipped in barges over the water route to Elsas.

However, our progress was not without some sadness. In 1913 Louis Hemon a promising young French writer, the author of the French Canadian love story "Marie Chapdelaine" was killed when struck by a C.P.R. train while walking on the tracks just west of Chapleau. He was buried in the Roman Catholic Cemetery here. In 1947 his mother and sister were brought from France to unveil a memorial in his honour at the C.P.R. station here.

A few years later John Ceredigion-Jones who wrote the words inscribed in the Peace Tower in Ottawa, was killed in a sawmill accident at Sultan and he is buried there. The inscription reads, "All's well for over there amongst his Peers, a happy warrior sleeps."

Isolation plagued Chapleau for over a half century. Except for the Canadian Pacific Railway there was no way out and in those days one could not charter a plane and fly to Timmins or Sudbury. The only aircraft to be seen in those days were the Flying Boats of the old Ontario Forestry Branch which were later replaced by Gypsy Moths. These were heralded as the utmost in forest fire protection in those days but their value was very limited and the task they did well, was to pinpoint fires. From that point in, it was strong arms and canoes which got the equipment in -- and the fires out! With such "primitive" equipment, as we would say today, it is amazing that the north did not burn off the map!

It does not seem too many years ago that Art Grount and Earl Sootheran chartered an aircraft to fly out to the Goose River, catch a mess of speckled trout and present it to the steward on the Royal Train carrying King George VI and Queen Elizabeth on the Royal Tour on May 24, 1938. Art still has the letter acknowledging the gift. Now one can practically drive to the Goose River.

However, if forest fires were a "Bugaboo" to the north, one forest fire provided the spark that solved the isolation and transportation problems of Chapleau.

For twenty years or more the "Government Road", as it was known in those days, was a political football. Promises and counter promises from the two political parties got a few miles of road done each year, By 1947 one could drive 35 miles east of Chapleau. It may be of interest to some people to know that quite a number of Chapleauites shipped their cars to Sudbury and took their highway tour from there. The cost by freight on a flat car was less than $100.00. A small thing - but net so small when one considers the C.P.R. excursion fare to Toronto once a month was $8.55 return. Passengers were welcomed with open arms in those days!

A new wheel chair accessible entrance is presently being constructed at the A.W. Moore arena in Chapleau by George Stone & Sons of Sault Ste. Marie and should be completed around October 6th. The new entrance had been approved by council in 2011.

to the forest fire. In 1948 a disastrous forest fire or a series of forest fires struck the north. Thousands of acres were burned. Several fires joined up and with prevailing wind conditions roared up the mighty Mississaugi River to within 40 miles of Chapleau. Then the last spark was out millions of board feet of merchantable timber stood blackened in the quiet forest. The timber had to get to the water before worms and rot took over. For once, the Government acted quickly. They offered "logging chances" to contractors whereby a contractor was given an area of virgin timber provided he took out the merchantable fire killed timber. To do this, the Government had to construct a main travel artery to get to the area -

- and thus the Chapleau Highway was pushed through.

Our roads are by no means super-highways. Some have a few miles of gravel which when traffic conditions and weather conditions get together, can make for rough driving. Take it easy and gauge your speed to the conditions of the road. We have a lovely cemetery -- but we prefer to save the space for those of our citizens who come to a calm and non-violent end.

There have been many changes -- many improvements. We now enjoy travel links to Highway 17 from the Sault to the Lakehead and Highway 101 to Highway 11 and into Quebec. An airstrip for wheel planes is under discussion and two charter air carriers serve the area.

Chapleau is a friendly town. You will get a friendly "Hi" on the Main Street from someone you never saw before. Our people are eager to help the visitor. Store clerks and management are eager to assist -- and the northern air and waters are yours to enjoy without charge (except for fishing - and even 'we locals can not fish for free anymore).

There are almost 4000 of us here and we like it. We enjoy our visitors and they can enjoy the many amenities we have to offer.

Chapleau boasts a fine shopping area and it is not necessary to bring along a load of food. Fresh fruits, vegetables, meats, bakery products -- in fact everything anyone will require is readily available.

If you are planning a holiday and want further information, let us know.

If you are in our area drop in to our Centennial Centre, browse around and say "Hello". If you are in our area and things are not going right, tell us and we'll do our best to help. Don't wait until you get back to West Horsepile and write your editor.

Now a word about our Chamber of Commerce. The men and women who are active in this organization are dedicated people. They receive no remuneration for the many hours of work they put in. They distribute thousands of pieces of literature from member tourist operators. The Chamber endorses member operators and goes all out to assist them, for this is the intent of the organization. welcome your plaudits or complaints, which incidentally will be investigated to the best of their ability.

If you are a camper, and have a "camper or trailer, you will find at least Three of the finest remote Provincial Parks in the Province. These are not "commercial" parks as one would find further south of us. These parks are modern, supervised and completely modern but they have been constructed by the Department of Lands and Forests within the last five years in territory which was previously inaccessible except by air, the hunting, and fishing has not previously been tapped. These parks are located close to towns or villages where food supplies are readily available.

"Five Mile Lake Park" is located on Highway 129 about 25 miles south of Chapleau between Chapleau and Thessalon. "Ivanhoe lake Park" is located about 60 miles east of Chapleau on Highway 101 east. This is an excellent park and is within 5 miles of the village of Foleyet on the C.N.R. where food and supplies are also available.

The third and newest park is called "Shoals Provincial Park" and is located about 40 miles from Chapleau on Highway 101 west between Chapleau and Wawa. These parks are excellent and for those using the "Camper" or Trailer mode of holiday, are unexcelled.

There are also many places along the route that have access to water where the tourist can find the privacy and remoteness he desires.

I might add here that although I have compiled these facts for the Chapleau Area Chamber of Commerce, I am not a member of this organization -- nor am I at all connected with the tourist business. In this manner, I can present the facts of what we have and what we can offer without any thought of personal remuneration.

So, if you have been to Chapleau it was nice having you. If you consider coming here I am sure you will enjoy yourselves.

Born October 3rd 1938, Departed August 25th 2012

Devoted Mother to; Guy, Michel Micheline, Lynn and Paul Beloved Grandmother to; Nicholas, Joseph, Marie, Sophia, Emma, Griffin, David Jr. and Matthew
And Great Grandmother to Nicholas Jr. and Anna-Marie

Where do I begin to describe such a wonderful person, someone I have kept near and dear to my heart all my life, no one word seems good enough to describe the woman that she was to me and to so many others. So here are a few; loving, forgiving, hardworking, strong willed, incredibly brave and wise. These are just a few of the things that come to mind when I think of my Mémé. She lived a life like any other, born in Québec she moved here with her family as a young girl and started her life anew, learning how to speak English meeting new people. Chapleau is where she met the love of her life and the father of her 5 children, Raymond. They were soon married and in the years that followed came her three first children, my uncles Guy and Michel and my aunt Micheline. 13 years later, then came my mom and my uncle Paul. She raised her kids as any mother would, with a stern hand and more than loving heart. She taught them right from wrong and though life brought many hard challenges at times she push through them and continued forward along her path making it look so effortless. And when her children began to have children of their own, she helped them as well, and I feel honoured to have been one of those children. During her life she was many things a daughter, a wife, a mother, an aunt, a grandmother, a great grandmother, phenomenal family chef, a friend, but to most nothing more than a friendly face. Somehow she managed to touch and change the lives of so many as she went along her day, and to be quite frank I don't think she ever really realized that about herself. I know that I myself am the person I am today, greatly because of her, and to be perfectly honest, life will seem pretty empty now without her. But I have my memories of her that will live on forever in my heart and mind, as do we all and she will continue to live her life through her children and her children's children and their children after that for decades to come. And though at times it will feel as though we just can't carry on without her, we mustn't despair as she would say, things will work out, you'll see. And that's what I plan on doing, one day at a time, and I'll think of her every step of the way. She was in many ways to me like a second mother, and not a day goes by that I don't thank God for having placed me in such warm loving arms and I know I'll miss her every day for the rest of my life, a part of me always hoping that I'll see her one day when I turn around. But she is in a better place now, and I take comfort in that one day when my time will come, I'll be reunited with her once more and I'll be able to hold her in my arms like I have these past 18 years and tell her how much I love her. But until that day comes she will remain a shooting star in my life, and the light that guides me, forever near and dear to my heart. I'll see you next time Mémé. I love you so much,

Marie Marchioni

Jack Shoup: a lifetime of service to devoted service to youth, church, community, and country

Chapleau Moments

by Michael J. Morris

Twenty years ago now when I was editor of Insider, the faculty newsmagazine at College of the Rockies I was writing about our duty to serve and participate, and referred to Frank Coulter who had been a member of the public school board in Chapleau for at least 17 years.

At a function honouring Frank for his service, I asked him why he had stayed on the board so long.

He told me that "Mr. Shoup told us we had a duty to serve and this is one way I could do it."

He was referring to John Martin 'Jack' Shoup, who was the principal and teacher at Chapleau Public School for 31 years with a leave of absence so that he could serve in the Canadian Army in World War II. Mr. Shoup had also served in World War I, and as Ian Macdonald recalled participated in the famous battle of Vimy Ridge.

According to Wikipedia the Battle of Vimy Ridge fought between April 9 and 12, 1917, was the first occasion when all four divisions of the Canadian Expeditionary Force participated in a battle together and thus became a Canadian nationalistic symbol of achievement and sacrifice. A portion of the former battleground serves as a preserved memorial park and site of the Canadian National Vimy Memorial.

Ian, the retired head of the department of architecture and professor emeritus at the University of Manitoba, and always available for research assistance, who attended Chapleau Public School, said Mr. Shoup made the observation that about the artillery barrage that preceded the attack on Vimy Ridge. He observed then that "he can still hear it today," and that would have been in 1951 or 1952.

After World War I, Mr. Shoup continued his teaching career which he started when he was 17 in the Sudbury area and came to Chapleau in 1927 as principal and teacher at the public school. He retired in 1958.

However, in 1939 he again joined the Canadian armed forces, went overseas, was wounded and eventually became a training officer for the duration of the war.

Upon returning to Chapleau, according to a story in the Chapleau Sentinel when he died, Mr. Shoup continued his "long career of devoted service to youth, his church, his community, his country and as a teacher."

He and his wife Agnes also raised their three children in Chapleau.

A member of Harry Searle Branch Number 5 (Ontario) of the Royal Canadian Legion he served as president and was made a life member.

In 1947, in a speech to Legion members after completing his first term as president, he encouraged members to be involved in community life, adding that the hall was becoming more and more a community centre every day and that more and more facilities would be added for the benefit of both the general public and veterans. He was returned for a second term as president.

By 1955, the

Mr. Shoup tripping the light fantastic at public school dance circa 1954

Legion had taken over ownership of the hall when B.W. 'Bubs' Zufelt was reeve. It had been using it for many years after St. John's Anglican Church, for whom it had been built as a parish hall by G.B. Nicholson, could no longer afford it.

It was built in memory of Lorne Nicholson and all his friends who were killed in World War I by his parents.

Mr. Shoup became the longest serving councillor in the history of Chapleau from the time the municipality was incorporated in 1901 until the present - - 16 one year terms!

Well known as chair of the Chapleau Recreation Committee and the beach day committee, Mr Shoup organized the children's parade and races for years, and skating races at the winter carnival too. Kids received dimes for participating.

in a parade with the children on Facebook, it prompted a flurry of comments summed up well by Graham Bertrand: "You could hand out ten dollar bills today and not be remembered like Jack Shoup fifty plus years later like he is."

Along with Vince Crichton and Bunt Burrows, he was an umpire for the Chapleau Fastball League for years, which prompted, to say the least, some "comments" at times. Little known perhaps, is that when Keith "Buddy" Swanson, Tom Welch and Lorne Riley were trying to bring junior "B" hockey to town in 1966, Mr. Shoup was a staunch supporter.

Buddy told me that Mr. Shoup was the only person, other than them, who attended the first meetings, and he encouraged them to continue with the plan. Of course they did and the rest is history.

He became a charter member of the Chapleau Rotary Club in 1951, sat on the board of Lady Minto Hospital, and taught Sunday school at Trinity United Church. He was also on the United church board.

Although I have been retired for 13 years now from the faculty of College of the Rockies, my thoughts always return to school at this time of year, and when I came across a copy of Insider, I decided to share a bit about Mr. Shoup, who with his counterpart John McClellan at Chapleau High School defined education for the better part of 30 years in Chapleau.

However, on a very personal basis, Mr.

Shoup was a great friend of my family. As many readers will recall, my mother Muriel (Hunt) Morris taught with him at Chapleau Public School for years. He also brought the Sudbury Star every day to our house for my grandparents Edythe and George Hunt, on one of his walks, always with his stick. After my grandfather Harry Morris died in 1957, he also assisted my grandmother Lil (Mulligan) Morris and made sure she was OK. They both lived on Elgin Street.

And so, as the Chapleau Sentinel observed when he died, Mr. Shoup was a "devoted and highly respected" citizen. Mr. Shoup not only told his students they had a duty to serve and participate - he did it at all levels. My email is mj.morris@live.ca

Supporting Economic Development in Northeastern Ontario

Ontario Government Creating Jobs, Strengthening Northern Economy

Ontario is helping to build a stronger, more diverse northern economy while creating 55 jobs across Northeastern Ontario. With support from the province's Northern Ontario Heritage Fund Corporation (NOHFC), 20 economic development projects in Northeastern Ontario are receiving nearly $2.3 million to help strengthen regional economies.

Michael Gravelle, Minister of Northern Development and Mines, announced the funding during his travels through several Northeastern Ontario communities, including stops in North Bay, Timmins, Cochrane and Kapuskasing.

Investing in economic development is an important part of the Ontario government's Growth Plan for Northern Ontario. A strong northern economy will help create a fair society and give the people of Ontario more opportunities for jobs and economic prosperity.

"I am very pleased that our government continues to support important investments that are creating new jobs and improving the lives of countless families across Northern Ontario. Through the NOHFC, our government is helping the communities of Cochrane, Timmins, Kapuskasing and Hearst increase employment opportunities and build stronger regional economies." said Michael Gravelle, Minister of Northern Development and Mines and Chair of the NOHFC.

The NOHFC is marking 25 years with the theme The NOHFC @25: Proud past, Strong Future.

Over the past two days, Minister Gravelle has announced nearly $3.7 million in NOHFC funding for 23 projects in Northeastern Ontario.

Since 2003, the NOHFC has approved over $890 million in funding, more than 5,800 projects and created or retained more than 22,900 jobs in Northern Ontario.

CHADWIC HOME, FAMILY RESOURCE CENTRE. Offers shelter, emotional support, and information for women and their children who are in crisis situations. We have a Toll Free Crisis Line which is staffed 24 hours a day. We can arrange for free transportation to the Centre for women who live in the Algoma/Chapleau area. We also offer support to women who live in the communities of Chapleau, White River, Dubreuilville, and Hornepayne through our Outreach Program. Our Outreach Worker travels to those communities to meet with women who need emotional support as well as information about their rights and options. If you need to speak with the Outreach Worker when she is in your community, you can call the Centre at any time to set up an appointment. You do not need to be a resident of the Centre in order to use our services. If you need someone to talk to or if you just need someone to listen, call our Toll Free Crisis line at 1-800-461-2242 or you can drop in at the Centre. We are here for you.

Moments in time THE HISTORY CHANNEL

- On Sept. 14, 1901, U.S. President William McKinley dies after being shot twice by a deranged anarchist. One bullet deflected off a suit button, but the other entered his stomach, passed through the kidneys and lodged in his back. When he was operated on, doctors failed to find the bullet, and gangrene soon spread throughout his body.
- On Sept. 15, 1935, German Jews are stripped of their citizenship, reducing them to mere "subjects" of the state. German Jews were excluded from a host of high-profile vocations, from public office to journalism, radio, theater, film and teaching -- even farming. Jews found it difficult to buy food, as stores would not admit Jewish customers.
- On Sept. 9, 1942, in the first and only air attack on the U.S. mainland in the war, a Japanese floatplane drops incendiary bombs on Oregon's Mount Emily, setting fire

- to a state forest. The president immediately called for a news blackout for the sake of morale.
- On Sept. 12, 1951, former middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson defeats Randy Turpin to win back the belt at the Polo Grounds in New York City. Robinson, a New York City native, had lost the belt to Turpin two months prior in Turpin's native London.
- On Sept. 10, 1977, at Baumettes Prison in Marseille, France, Hamida Djandoubi, a Tunisian immigrant convicted of murder, becomes the last person executed by guillotine. In 1981, France abandoned the guillotine forever.
- On Sept. 13, 1989, Hurricane Hugo approaches the Leeward Islands. Over the next 12 days, the category 4 storm would kill 75 people from the island of Guadeloupe to South Carolina. The environmental toll in the Carolinas was severe, and one national forest lost about 70 percent of its trees.
- On Sept. 11, 1991, a Continental Express commuter plane crashes near Houston as it prepares to land,
