Consistent growth permits company to become one of major employers

Situated near the junction of highways 129 and 101, almost out of view of passing traffic, rests the operations centre of True North Timber. Perhaps 'rests' is not the appropriate word. This is the strategic core of a vibrant business that has a very significant economic impact on the community of Chapleau.

A brief visit with Operations Manager Ryan Saari will quickly convince anyone that this is a company with a humble past, an industrious present and a promising future.

Company owner Albert Guillemette had the vision to submit a proposal to be the "Stump to Mill" contractor for E.B. Eddy at the time of their purchase of Martel Lumber. The successful proposal to supply conifer led to the establishment of True North Timber in 1997. At that time Ryan Saari was approached by Mr. Guillemette to accept the responsibilities as Operations Manager.

The company has grown consistently in each year of its operation. There are now 86 employees at True North Timber which represents a major contribution to Chapleau's economy involving everything from housing to schooling, food and clothing to gasoline and recreational activities. In short, these employees are supporting all essentials of a vivacious community.

Ryan Saari is committed to having a strategy in place to insure the future of the company and its employees. He insists that the employees at True North Timber have bought into the vision and plan for the future and are contributing through team work and harmony. He notes that "pride and enthusiasm are contagious throughout the team". This is in part due to choosing the right role for each employee to obtain maximum performance.

Ryan believes that the company must be constantly changing, staying innovative and competitive in these high tech times but insists that old fashioned values of teamwork, honesty and chemistry of the team relies on an open flow of information from the bottom up.

True North Timber's concerns about safety and the environment go hand in hand with their obligation to their family of employees and the community of Chapleau. The Chapleau Express wishes True North Timber continued success.

High Caliber of Fiddlers & Step Dancers Coming to Chapleau

One of the most popular events at the Chapleau Nature Festival is the fiddling and step dancing competitions. This is considered to be a major attraction for many people throughout Ontario, Canada and even the United States.

The participants in the fiddling and step dancing are like family to one another. Many of them spend the summer touring throughout the province, competing in various festivals. They follow what is known as a circuit. Their summers are planned as soon as the festivals are announced.

This year the fiddling and step dancing event is shaping up to be one of the best ever. There are already 30 participants registered in this year's competition. This is unusual since most of the participants wait until they have arrived to register.

The festival staff is expecting many returning competitors some of which are considered to be the best in their category. With the festival being held earlier this year, it is also believed that there will be more competitors coming to Chapleau since there is less likely to be a conflict of schedules with other popular festivals.

Since Chapleau has such large prizes for the winners it is definitely a draw among the competitors in the circuit. Many of the people who competed in previous years enjoyed their visit to Chapleau so much that they return every year. So go out and cheer on your favorites!

VERA OLGA FORTIN
(November 13, 1926 - June 18, 2006)
 It is with great sorrow that the family announces the passing of Vera at the Chapleau General Hospital. Vera was the beloved wife of Jean-Noël (Johnny) Fortin. She will be sadly missed by her sister-in-law Marie Musclow; her brother-in-law Robert Fortin and his wife Margaret Rose; her many nieces and nephews; her very special friends Leo and Joyce Vezina; and many friends in Chapleau and in various other locations both in Canada and in the United States. Vera was predeceased by her parents, William and Theodora Dubiski, and her brother, Edward. She was born in a section house in Riverdale, Manitoba, between Minnedosa and Brandon. She was very proud of her prairie heritage, her Ukrainian heritage and her heritage as the daughter of a C.P.R. railroader. Vera taught high school for many years and had a special affinity for 'kids.' This was evidenced in her warm and open relationships with her nieces, nephews, former students, and young friends. Vera was also an active member of the community. She was commended for her outstanding service as a Chapleau municipal councillor for 1979-1980. In recent years, she enjoyed being a member of the senior citizens association and spent many happy hours playing bridge with cherished companions and participating in other activities. The family wishes to express its thanks for the wonderful care given to her by the health care workers at the Chapleau General Hospital. A Memorial Service for both Johnny and Vera was celebrated at Sacred Heart Church, Chapleau, Ontario, on Friday, June 23, 2006, with Fr. Jacques Fortin officiating. Bienvenue à Chapleau

Le jeudi 4 mai de cette année, 11 élèves de l'école Sacré-Coeur, accompagnés de Mme Annie Lessard (coordonnatrice), se sont rendus au pied du pont principal afin de participer à un projet communautaire dans le cadre de la semaine de l'éducation. Malgré le vent froid, les élèves ont placé les roches en formes de lettres géantes afin de lire "BIENVENUE, WELCOME". Une fois les roches placées, les élèves les ont peinturées de couleur blanche afin d'être bien lisibles à une certaine distance. Nous espérons que ce petit geste puisse embellir davantage notre belle communauté et accueillir les touristes et passants. Malheureusement, pendant les petites heures du 28 juin dernier, des vandales sont allés déplacer les roches pour lire des vulgarités. Dès le lendemain matin, un deuxième groupe d'élèves de l'école Sacré-Coeur est retourné pour replacer toutes les roches une seconde fois.

Si vous connaissez les gens coupables de cet acte de vandalisme, n'hésitez pas d'en parler avec nos agents de police afin qu'un tel événement ne se reproduise. Un grand merci à Mme Annie Lessard, M. Patrick Venne, aux enseignantes et aux élèves bénévoles : Hélène Deslaunières, Christiane Morin-Domingue, Martin Richard, Valérie Gervais, Shyanne Lafrenière, Kristine Taillefer, Tanya Taillefer, Cailin Jones, Alicia Canning, Robert Gouge, Shawn Hann, Nolan Jones, Mélanie Dillon, Julie Robitaille, Whitney Jardine, Kylie Fournier, Sabrina Boucher et Carolyne Pilote.

Welcome to Chapleau

On May 4th of this year, 11 students from Sacré-Coeur school, along with Mrs. Annie Lessard (coordinator), walked to the bottom of the main bridge to partake in a community project for Education week. The students bared the cold and placed the rocks as to read "BIENVENUE, WELCOME". Once in place, the rocks were painted white in order to be visible from a distance. We had hoped that this simple gesture could help further embellish our community and thus welcome tourists and passers by. Unfortunately, during the early hours of June 28, some vandals rearranged the rocks in order to read some vulgarities. As soon as school started, a second group of students from Sacré-Coeur returned to rearrange the rocks a second time. If you have seen or know of the culprits, we urge you to contact our local police in order to prevent such an event from reoccurring. We would like to thank

Mrs. Annie Lessard, Mr. Patrick Venne, the teachers and our group of volunteers: Hélène Deslaunières, Christiane Morin-Domingue, Martin Richard, Valérie Gervais, Shyanne Lafrenière, Kristine Taillefer, Tanya Taillefer, Cailin Jones, Alicia Canning, Robert Gouge, Shawn Hann, Nolan Jones, Mélanie Dillon, Julie Robitaille, Whitney Jardine, Kylie Fournier, Sabrina Boucher and Carolyne Pilote.

Change of Command Ceremony North East Regional Commander Named

(North Bay, ON) Today (June 28, 2006) the change of command for the North East Region was marked by a special ceremony in North Bay in which the new North East Regional Commander, Chief Superintendent K.G. (Ken) Miller, was officially recognized. Miller succeeds now retired Chief Superintendent A.V. (Al) Dawson and undertook his command earlier this month at North East Region Headquarters in North Bay.

Attending the ceremony were members of Provincial Command along with a number of former North East Regional Commanders, Detachment Commanders, Unit Commanders and Regional Headquarters staff.

An integral part of the brief ceremony was the presentation and handing down of the North East Regional Commander's Staff, carved by Marty Restoule a Dokis First Nation Elder. The idea for the commemorative staff was that of Chief Superintendent Al Dawson who developed strong ties to the Aboriginal communities through his work in both the North East and North West Regions. The simply carved maple branch carries a special significance for the former Ontario Provincial Police Regional Commander.

The handle of the North East Regional Commander's Staff is decorated with an eagle head carving. To the Ojibway people, the eagle is an important symbol. The eagle flies highest of all living beings and is a messenger to the Creator. The eagle is connected to both the spirit world and the physical world and represents the people who walked the path before. Qualities such as farsightedness, strength, honesty, integrity and leadership are attributed to the eagle.'

Chief Superintendent K.G. (Ken) Miller O.P.P.

Regional Commander North East Region

Chief Superintendent K.G. (Ken) began his Ontario Provincial Policing career in 1976 as a Provincial Constable in Hearst. He became a member of the Tactical Response Unit North Bay in 1980 and remained with the unit as a highly trained specialist for the next four years. Miller then returned to the front-line duties of a general law enforcement officer with North Bay detachment. In 1994, Miller was promoted to Detective Sergeant in the position of Area Crime Supervisor - North East Region and provided functional leadership to detective constables and uniformed members with respect to benchmark criminal investigations. This supervisory role enabled Miller to work on a number of Criminal Investigation Branch investigations that were a prelude to his promotion in 1999 to Detective Inspector, Criminal Investigation Branch. This Major Case Manager portfolio enabled Miller to remain in North Bay. In 2002, Miller was promoted to the rank of Superintendent as Regional Director of Operations for the North East Region. Reporting to the Regional Commander, Miller oversaw all criminal and traffic operations across the North East Region. He was also responsible to oversee regional issues pertaining to Professional Standards Branch. His promotion to the rank of Chief Superintendent was announced in May 2006 and he assumed responsibility for the command of the North East Region June 1, 2006.

Professionalism, accountability and operational visibility will be the underpinning of his leadership style. Chief Superintendent Miller anticipates a seamless transition and looks forward to working with the 677 uniformed members and 197 civilians under his command.

His priority is to meet with each of the fourteen North East Region detachment commanders and their respective community leaders, First Nations leaders and municipal chiefs of police. Continuous consultation with communities ensures that the OPP deliver policing services that meet the community's individual needs.

Chief Superintendent Miller

and his wife Sally have made their home in North Bay and have two adult daughters who aspire to become Ontario Provincial Police officers like their father.

Miller is well know and respected by members of the Ontario Hockey Federation, the Northern Ontario Hockey Association, and the Ontario Hockey League for his dedicated work as a referee and for his years of executive service. He speaks fondly of his hockey memories, in particular the recognition he received for North Bay's sporting community as a recipient of the Pete Palangio Award for Sports Person of the Year.

Chief Superintendent Miller's favourite team is, without a doubt, the Montreal Canadians.

ainsi que des bourses. L'école remercie les commanditaires qui ont contribué afin de permettre la remise de ces prix et bourses.

Dans la photo, la joie et la satisfaction sont évidentes de la part des élèves, de l'enseignante Mme Chantal Rouleau et du directeur M. Patrick Venne.

UNE ÉCOLE SANS FIL!

En février dernier, le Conseil scolaire catholique du Nouvel-Ontario (CSCNO) présentait au Ministère de l'éducation une demande de financement de projets pilotes pour favoriser la réussite des élèves dans ses écoles rurales. Eh bien, les nombreuses heures mises par M. Luc Tessier, le directeur de l'École secondaire catholique Trillium, ainsi que l'équipe du Conseil ont porté fruit. Depuis quelques mois, les étudiants de Trillium ont l'utilisation de portables sans fil!

Ce nouveau projet surnommé CONNEXION est un projet communautaire d'interventions planifiées dont la mise en oeuvre prend place sur de multiples axes. Le CSCNO et ses partenaires (en autres Bell/Nortel, l'École Sacré-Coeur, SAMFO et la ville de Chapleau) visent la création de nouvelles possibilités d'apprentissage électronique, l'intégration de la technologie dans l'apprentissage des élèves afin d'améliorer leurs compétences liées à la littératie et la numératie ainsi qu'un accroissement de la capacité à offrir des cours à l'école pour faciliter l'obtention du diplôme d'études secondaires de l'Ontario.

L'École secondaire Trillium a maintenant un réseau sans fil et des portables disponibles aux élèves afin de leur offrir l'opportunité de se brancher au réseau (incluant l'Internet) de n'importe où dans l'école. Un financement du ministère de 100 000$ a été alloué en plus des argents de Bell/Nortel! On se retrouve avec trois chariots de 15 portables pour les élèves, incluant coûts des licences, caméras et casques d'écoute; deux projecteurs multimédias (afin d'accroître la capacité de communication) soit un par chariot; deux tableaux électroniques mobiles (SMARTBOARD) afin de permettre le transfert de notes et faciliter l'objectivation en salle de classe ainsi que des imprimantes pour chaque chariot. Et de plus, il y a trois ordinateurs Apple pour des cours spécialisés nécessitant le multimédia, incluant une imprimante couleur et deux caméscopes. Il est à noter qu'une équipe de chercheurs de l'université Laurentienne a été retenue par nos partenaires Bell/Nortel afin d'étudier les effets de la réalisation de ce projet à Trillium. Dans le cadre de l'apprentissage centré sur l'élève, cinq axes d'interventions seront étudiées: les apprentissages essentiels, le leadership éducationnel, l'engagement parental et communautaire, l'excellence en enseignement et le milieu d'apprentissage et d'enseignement.

Nos étudiants seront donc exposés à une diversité de stratégies d'apprentissage riches qui assureront leur réussite, accroîtront leur motivation, leur accumulation de crédits et faciliteront leur obtention du diplôme. Pour les étudiants de Trillium, ces compétences acquises faciliteront leur transition aux études postsecondaires, en personne ou à distance de leur communauté. Cette restructuration technologique permettra de briser l'isolement de nos jeunes et de développer un sens d'appartenance culturelle et la construction identitaire qui se fait de façon fort différente dans un milieu tel que Chapleau que dans un centre urbain.

LE CENTRE CULTUREL EN CONGÉ

Le Centre culturel Louis-Hémon tient à informer la communauté que le centre sera fermé du 30 juin au 5 septembre. Nous tenons cependant à vous annoncer que nous aurons le concours de photographie en septembre. Alors, sortez votre caméra et allez-y!

Nous vous remercions de votre support pendant l'année. Votre participation à nos spectacles et à nos activités a été extraordinaire. Un merci spécial à tous nos commanditaires, aux bénévoles et à ceux qui ont contribué à nos activités. Du fond du cœur, un grand merci à Lise Ayotte et Micheline Guertin et à la nouvelle équipe du Centre.

LA ST-JEAN – UN SUCCÈS

Le Centre culturel Louis-Hémon est fier du succès obtenu de la St-Jean. Plus de 70 personnes de tous les âges se sont déplacées pour célébrer avec nous cette grande fête des francophones. De toutes les activités au programme, le bingo express fut le plus populaire. Tant qu'aux enfants, ils attendaient avec impatience la course aux minnows. Le Centre félicite tous les gagnants aux activités et remercie les personnes qui ont donné généreusement en nourriture et en prix pour la vente à un sou. La St-Jean marque le début de l'été et la dernière activité du Centre pendant la saison estivale. Alors le Centre vous souhaite un bel été.

Brianna Gervais et Kolby St-Jean sont fiers de montrer leur t a t o o d u d r a p e a u franco.

Martin & Cheechoo Coming Back to Chapleau for the Nature Festival

Keep your eyes peeled for Lawrence Martin and Vern Cheechoo who are returning to entertain Chapleau once again on July 14th at the Nature Festival.

Singer / Songwriter Vern Cheechoo, grew up in Moose Factory, Ontario, a small community on an island on the Moose River, about 200 miles away from the nearest town, with his parents, three brothers and five sisters. There were no highways and only two ways to get there--by plane or by rail. With no television, phone or electricity, his family was creative in finding ways to entertain themselves during the long winter nights.

Vern's love of music was passed on to him from his parents. His mother played the Hawaiian style of steel guitar and his father played the fiddle. His first experience with music began when his family would get together and sing songs by the Carter Family, Hank Williams, Jimmie Rodgers, Elvis Presley, Wilf Carter and Patsy Cline.

Self taught Vern started playing guitar at the age of six. He would watch his brothers play and would later try and reproduce what he saw and heard; he was a natural. By the age of eight he was chording for his father, who was entering Vern in talent shows. People say that Vern could be seen playing at talent shows with his feet barely touching the floor and hanging onto what looked like a huge guitar, but he could play it.

Since those days Vern has come a long ways in the music business. Vern has three solo recordings to date. His first release "Lonesome and Hurting" released in 1993 and was an innovative and contemporary collection of country songs and ballads. Vern was featured on CBC-TV's "Ear to the Ground" in the 1993 seasonal show that profiles rising Canadian musicians. The single "Lonesome and Hurting" was featured on the popular CBS television series "Northern Exposure". Vern also made an appearance in "Dance Me Outside" a Bruce McDonald and Norman Jewison movie that also featured the title cut "Lonesome and Hurting" and "Love Me Tonight" as part of the movie's sound track.

Vern's second and third releases garnered more attention by being nominated twice for the Juno Awards in 2000 and 2003. Vern is also a two time Saskatchewan Country Music Nominee and a seven time Aboriginal Music Award Nominee, and a winner at the 2000 Aboriginal Music Awards for the Best Produced Album of the year.

Vern is a proud member of the Moose Cree First Nation and resides in Sault Ste. Marie. Vern is presently working on a compilation album to be released in the spring of 2007. He is also working on a new album, which should be ready for release in the fall of 2007. Vern says, "It's the love of music and entertaining folks, the fans, that keep me going and I'll keep going until I can't play or sing no more".

Lawrence Martin is originally from Moose River Crossing, a small village along the railroad tracks that run between Cochrane and Moosonee. He was writing music ever since he was about 12 years old or so. He has always had an interest in music. He plays guitar, banjo, violin, harmonica and the bass guitar.

When he was 14, Lawrence left

Moose River to attend high school in North Bay. Living in the city gave him the opportunity to expand his music experiences, playing in various bands, working in the bars, dances and festivals.

Then in 1993, he asked his then boss and Board of Directors at Wawatay Communications if he could spend about $3000.00 to go to Nashville to record some songs that he had been writing and they agreed.

So he went to Nashville and came back with an album of 12 songs that he had written. Most of the songs were in Cree. He recorded songs about everything to do with his people. He won the Juno award that year for Wapistan and was really excited about trying to be a part of the mainstream Canadian music industry.

One of his major achievements was in 1994 winning the very first Canadian Aboriginal Juno award. His music is a unique blend of native, country and folk music. He became the first Juno award winner for the best Aboriginal music in Canada. He was so honored with that because he was able to use his Cree language, to talk and sing about the culture and plight of his people, and be able to talk about a way to heal and deal with the issues that they have been getting all these years since the arrival of the Europeans.

To date, Lawrence has three cd's and is now being distributed by Sunshine Records of Winnipeg, Manitoba. He lives in Cochrane, as the Mayor, and Art Gallery owner along with his wife Betty Albert, who is from Chapleau Cree First Nation.

Lawrence has a new release currently out on a compilation of 15 of his best songs.

Also keep an eye out in the spring and fall of 2007, for a compilation album and a brand new recording from Vern Cheechoo.

Membre du Parlement Fédéral
pour Algoma-Manitoulin-Kapuskasing

FÊTE DU CANADA
2006

C'est avec grande fierté que je me joins à la population d'Algoma-Manitoulin-Kapuskasing et à la population canadienne en général pour célébrer la Fête du Canada en 2006.

Aujourd'hui, nous nous rappelons notre histoire et nous réfléchissons sur la richesse et la diversité culturelles qui, sans contredit, font du Canada le meilleur pays au monde où vivre.

Il me fait grand plaisir d'avoir la possibilité de me rendre dans plusieurs collectivités qui ont organisé des activités et des célébrations à l'échelle locale pour souligner la Fête du Canada. Je me sens privilégié de pouvoir vivre avec la population d'Algoma-Manitoulin-Kapuskasing cette importante journée.

Nous sommes fiers d'être Canadiens, et nous avons toutes les raisons de l'être. Nous sommes fiers de ce que nous avons accompli en tant que nation. Nous sommes fiers des valeurs qui nous unissent. Nous sommes fiers de notre rôle sur l'échiquier mondial. En ce jour de la Fête du Canada, célébrons ce que nous avons réalisé jusqu'à maintenant, et engageons-nous à collaborer pour bâtir le Canada de demain.

Amusez-vous bien et soyez prudents. Joyeux 139e anniversaire, Canada!

Canada Day is a day to celebrate

By Mike Brown, Provincial Member of Parliament for Algoma-Manitoulin

As Canadians, we are fortunate to be living in the greatest country in the world. Thanks to the efforts of our forefathers, we have opportunities that many people in other parts of the world do not enjoy. That is why, on Canada Day, we need to take some time to celebrate this great nation of ours.

Canada Day is not just another long-weekend. Canada Day is about remembering the efforts of all of the people who helped to build this country: the pioneers, who settled the land; the First Nations people, who shared the land with us; the Father's of Confederation, who conceived the very idea of Canada; the soldiers who fought valiantly in many wars to preserve our country; and the peacekeepers, who have helped to build Canada's reputation on the world stage. The history of Canada is not just something you read about in a history text book. These are the stories of our parents, our grandparents and our great-grandparents. It was their efforts that made Canada into the country it is today.

It is not uncommon, when you tell people from other countries that you are from Canada, to receive a smile or a nod of respect. It is a country that is well-respected among the many nations of the world. Canada is a country we can be proud of.

So, when Canada Day arrives this year, don't just sit at home and treat it like another day off. Get out and enjoy the community events. Gather with friends and neighbours. Take in the fireworks. Enjoy the freedoms and liberties that we have been provided by the people who built this country. Canada Day is all about celebrating what all Canadians have in common, and what we have in common is that we live in the greatest country in the world.

Most anglers obeyed the rules:
Check of over 6,000 anglers leads to 179 charges

HEARST A four-week enforcement blitz by Ministry of Natural Resources conservation officers in the northeast region found most anglers obeying the rules. Special emphasis was placed on sensitive walleye fisheries throughout the northeast.

The blitz began on May 20, which corresponded to the opening weekend of walleye fishing in the northeast, and ended on June 18. The blitz covered an area from the Hudson Bay and James Bay coasts in the north to the French and Mattawa rivers in the south, and from the Ontario-Quebec border in the east to Lake Superior and Manitowadge in the west.

Conservation officers checked over

6,000 anglers and laid 179 charges including:

- 121 for fishing related offences including fishing without a licence and catching and retaining more fish than permitted by quota
- 10 for transporting fish in a manner that they could not be identified or counted.

In total, 200 fish were seized including 175 walleye, 1 pike and 4 lake trout. Atlantic salmon and brook trout were also seized. Illegal bait in the form of leeches were seized from some anglers.

Conservation officers also investigated an additional 229 violations not directly related to angling, including violations under the Public Lands Act, The Forest Fire Prevention Act, and the Small Vessel Regulations.

The ministry reminds anglers to keep in mind that if a conservation officer asks to see your licence, the law states that you must show it;

For further information on fishing regulations, please consult the 2005-2006 Recreational Fishing Regulations Summary, available from licence issuers, or on the ministry's website at www.mnr.gov.on.ca/MNR/pubs/pubmenu.html.

Call 1-877-TIPS-MNR (847-7667) toll-free any time to report a natural resources violation or contact your local ministry office during regular business hours. You can also call Crime Stoppers anonymously at 1-800-222-TIPS (8477).
